Testerman had the longest Tiger rush of the season — a 68 yard scoring jaunt against Tennessee — while Callicutt gained 809 yards on 161 carries.

Senator Edgar A. Brown, as sketched by Ron Chapiesky.

"You cannot talk of affairs of consequence in South Carolina without talking of Senator Brown. And by the same token, you cannot talk of Senator Brown without talking of affairs of consequence in South Carolina."

— Clemson University President Robert C. Edwards, May 14, 1959

A Man of Consequence

Edgar A. Brown was born in 1888 — the year Thomas Green Clemson died and left the bulk of his estate for the founding of a technical and scientific institution.

Brown's devotion to that institution, originally called Clemson Agricultural College, began in 1934. By then a veteran of five years in the S. C. Senate, he was named by the General Assembly to one of six positions it elects on Clemson's Board of Trustees.

According to his biographer, Brown had never set foot in a college until he came to Clemson as a trustee.

When Strom Thurmond took office as governor in 1947, he called for an end to dual office-holding. Sen. Brown temporarily was absent from Clemson trustee meetings but in 1947 came the public announcement that Clemson's life trustees had elected him to their ranks late in 1947 to succeed J. E. Sirrine, who had died August 7, 1947.

In the 1950s, when plans for Hartwell Dam threatened the flooding of Clemson property, including Memorial Stadium, Brown headed negotiations with the Army Corps of Engineers. The negotiations ended in a settlement satisfactory to Clemson.

Brown's leadership in the state Senate, the Democratic Party, and the Clemson Board of Trustees was recognized in 1955, when his adopted alma mater bestowed an honorary Doctor of Laws degree on him.

Brown was elected chairman of the executive committee of the board in 1960. When Clemson complied with a court order to integrate in 1963, a major role in preventing disorder was ascribed to him.

Brown was elected president of the board in 1966, two years after the General Assembly changed the institution's title to Clemson University.

In 1969 the board presented him a resolution honoring him on his 81st birthday and six days later passed a resolution requesting that he "make available to Clemson University the letters, papers, and memorabilia of his remarkable life to be preserved and protected for posterity in an appropriate room, to be named after him, in the Robert Muldrow Cooper Library."

When the room was dedicated in 1971, Brown reflected upon his long public service in South Carolina and said, "There is nothing I feel will be more lasting than what I have tried to contribute to Clemson."

Sen. Brown stepped down from his legislative post in 1973 but continued to serve Clemson as president of the Board of Trustees.

On Brown's death last June 26, Clemson President Robert C. Edwards released the following statement:

"This state will always remember Sen. Brown for his lifelong career of public service in government. His contributions in the areas of human relations and education are cornerstones of his greatness.

" . . . Clemson University will cherish his memory because of his wise counsel and leadership as president of the Board of Trustees. His memory will be perpetuated in the Edgar A. Brown Room of the Robert Muldrow Cooper Library, where he placed the records and mementos of his remarkable life.

"We have lost a most beloved member of the Clemson family. . . . Without the benefit of his advice, counsel, and the degree of confidence he shared with me, I could not have begun to face the many responsibilities of this office through the years."

The Edgar A. Brown Room

The Edgar A. Brown Room, located on the main floor of Robert Muldrow Cooper Library and open to the public daily, and the Brown Collection of letters, papers, scrapbooks, manuscripts, and memorabilia are a treasure house of information about the life and times of one of South Carolina's greatest statesmen.

For both the casual visitor and the serious scholar, a step into the Brown Room is a step into one of South Carolina's richest historical periods.

The atmosphere of the room is quiet, thoughtful, and dignified — a reflection of the man himself. The individual exhibits are captured moments in time. There is an engraving reproduction of the small school at China Springs which the Senator attended as a child. Along one wall are the telephone, hat rack, chairs, and oval conference table from the office he occupied in 1925-26 as Speaker of the House of Representatives. Opposite these are the roll-top desk and chair he used from 1929 to 1965, when new desks were installed in the Senate Chamber.

With a little imagination one can almost see "Mr. Good Government," an appropriate sobriquet he earned from his colleagues, seated at the oval table or the Senate desk, planning and conferring over the next moves in his fight for vital fundamentals of good government like public education, highways, ports, public health, agriculture, forestry, and the many other essential elements of a progressive state.

Translucent panels at the rear of the room contain statements that exemplify the wisdom and eloquence of Senator Brown throughout that distinguished career as a public servant.

These exhibits, together with the display cases with their bits of memorabilia that chronicle his life on the state and national scene, say much about the quality of Senator Brown's life and service.

Of equal importance is the Edgar A. Brown Collection of letters, papers, records, scrapbooks, and manuscripts housed in the library. A major significance of the collection is that it assembles in one place — preserved for students, researchers, and historians — the records of one man organized to serve as a point of reference for a long period in South Carolina's political, economic, and educational history.

No future student of the tremendous forces at work shaping the destiny of this country in this century can afford to neglect the kind of knowledge to be gained by working with the Brown Collection.

The Edgar A. Brown Room is open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sundays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Visitors are always welcome.

a race to the ncaa title

Clemson's Soccer Tigers have reeled off 15 consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference victories while capturing three straight league crowns in as many years. And the Tiger booters have advanced to NCAA post-season play in each of the past three campaigns.

Yet Ibrahim M. Ibrahim, the confident and flamboyant mentor who organized soccer at Clemson and who has coached his Tigers to victories in almost 75 per cent of their outings as a varsity team since 1967, envisions a season that every single coach in every single sport hopes to achieve—an NCAA title.

Giving Ibrahim these hopes are 13 returning lettermen from the 1974 team that posted a 12-3 record, lost to eventual NCAA champ Howard 1-0 in the finals of the Southern Regionals, and finished the year ranked sixth in the nation.

Additionally, the Tiger coach landed eight freshmen whom he labeled "the best group of soccer players I have ever recruited in any single season."

On the dark side of the ledger, however, Ibrahim must replace second-leading scorer Hyles (11 goals in '74), who did not return to school, and All-ACC defense standout Ron Giesbers via the graduation route.

Moreover, Clemson faces its most demanding regular season schedule ever. In addition to the five keen and competitive foes, four of whom will bemet on road dates, the Tigers meet defending national champ Howard, NCAA runner-up St. Louis—a team that has won 10 of the last 16 collegiate soccer titles, SIU-Edwardsville—a perennial NCAA soccer power and team that year-in and year-out ranks as one of the top three teams in the country, and state-rival Erskine—an NAIA semifinalist last fall. And the second annual Clemson Invitational features, in addition to Howard, Cleveland St. and Illinois-Chicago circle, two other soccer toughies, to provide area fans with a fine two-day exhibition.

All in all, 1975 looms as an exciting one for Clemson soccer fans, and one in which the Tigers should be a definite contender for its first NCAA crown in its still brief history.

GOALIES

Denis Carrington earned All-ACC honors at this spot last year, and only 13 opponent goals were scored against Clemson in '74. In fact, in Carrington's previous two seasons, the Tigers have shut out 20 of their 32 opponents. Again this fall, Carrington will have to shoulder most of the burden here, although returnee Maxie Headley will be available for reserve duty.

BACKS

Clemson's four-back defensive system is one which has been stingy in allowing goals over the past two seasons (19), and Ibrahim has six returning lettermen here including all-league and All-South Ralston Moore, a former All-American at Miami-Dade Junior College, and a talented athlete who was Clemson's leading point getter as a track sprinter last spring.

I. M. Ibrahim, Head Coach Soccer
& Head Coach Track

Ralston Moore

Clyde Browne

To join Moore, Ibrahim will pick from Clyde Browne, the ACC's MVP for three straight years, brothers Gordon and Mark Alphonso, Alfred Morrison, Eric Smith—who saw some starting action as a forward in '74, and Dan West.

MIDFIELD

Ibrahim says he has a "wealth of talent" to fill the two midfield positions, with All-American Clyde Browne leading the talent parade.

Browne has reaped All-South honors in each of his three previous seasons at Tigertown, earning the ACC's most valuable soccer tab in each of those three campaigns as well.

Morrison also has the ability to play here, as does diminutive but flashy all ACC performer Clyde Watson, a midfielder-forward who has 14 goals to his credit over the past two seasons.

Then, freshmen Paul Agu and Taiwo Ogunjobi, and Benedict Popoola together with the talented returnees, give Clemson as good a midfield as possible.

FORWARDS

Returning candidates for the two outside forward positions—the wings—are Watson, a two-year starter here, and letterman Douglas Scott.

And joining that duo are four newcomers in Emmanuel Egede, Damian Ogunsuyi, Innocent Nwankwo, and Ogunjobi.

The two inside forwards—or strikers—should come from sophomores Rennie Phillips, who started all 15 games here a year ago and who led both the Tigers and the ACC in scoring with 17 goals, and Michael Murray, a part-time starter in '74.

But this fall they will be challenged by freshmen Christian Nwokocha, Popoola, and Godwin Ogbueze, giving the Tigers a much quicker and elusive front line than last year.

SUMMARY

Although there was much talent on the '74 team, the wealth of talent that has been added this fall should make this version of Clemson Soccer the strongest contender yet for a national championship.

The Clemson attack could possibly be more potent than the one in 1973 which registered a school and ACC record 96 goals in 17 games. But the key to the team's potential will again be a polished and experienced defense, whose job may be just a bit more relaxed than last year's, since the attack will be able to control the ball longer, taking the constant pressure off the defense.

"There is no doubt that we will have a very talented team," says Ibrahim, "and we have enough depth to help us maintain our quality of play throughout the season."

And about the team that may be his best every and the one with the best chance to win the school's first NCAA crown, Ibrahim continues, "I am excited about the 1975 season, especially since I know we can play such a demanding schedule and provide the attractions of such teams as Howard, St. Louis and Southern Illinois to our fans, and still know that we can play on an even note with each one of those opponents."

Ibrahim concludes that, "the talent is here, I believe, to be one of the best in the nation again. I want the national crown for Clemson and for the development of soccer in the South. We must all work hard, and we hope that each member of this year's team is ready to dedicate himself fully in order to realize our goals."

THE TULANE SERIES

Clemson knows that Tulane is located in New Orleans and the Green Wave knows where the Tigers hang out, and they write each other every once and awhile, but it's very seldom they visit each other. But today is one of those times.

Not since 1961 have the Tigers and Greenies played, and prior to that, it was 15 years between games. But since 1937 they have managed eight meetings with the Green Wave holding a 5-3 edge.

However, Clemson prevailed 21-6 in that 1961 encounter, which was the last year of an eight-year stretch for Andy Pilney as head coach at Tulane. Frank Howard was in his 22nd year at Clemson with eight years to go.

Clemson generated 101 yards of offense in the first half in that game to Tulane's 80, and the Tigers had the only score, coming on an 18-yard run by Ron Scrudato.

On the third play of the second half, Thomas Emerson dashed 67 yards for a Green Wave score, but Calvin West blocked the extra point to preserve a 7-6 Clemson lead.

Midway through the third period Elmo Lam gathered in a Sammy Camp punt and rambled 68 yards for the second Clemson score. On the third play of the fourth quarter Joe Anderson breezed in from nine yards out and Lon Armstrong added his third extra point of the day and his 30th consecutive one.

Now 14 years later Tulane head coach Bennie Ellender has put new life into the Green Wave. In his fifth year at the New Orleans school, he brings back 38 lettermen, but two of the big ones are not expected to play against the Tigers.

Terry Looney, who had 879 yards of total offense last season and was counted on as the No. 1 quarterback, suffered a knee injury on the second play of the first scrimmage and is out for the year. And on the second day, middle guard Mark Olivari, who was in on 119 tackles in 1974, twisted his knee and is expected to miss possibly three games.

But the Tigers can expect to see two outstanding offensive stars in split end Jaime Garza and tailback Steve Treuting. Garza led the Greenies in receiving a year ago with 24 receptions for 457 yards and four scores while Treuting ate up 523 yards on 136 totes.

Ellender would like to see the same start but a different finish from last year. His team devoured the first five opponents and then suffered six straight losses.

This will be Ellender's fifth year at Tulane, and he's had two winning and two losing seasons. His overall Green Wave record is 23-22, with his best year being in 1973 with a 9-3 mark. Counting eight seasons at Arkansas State, Ellender has a 12-year coaching record of 75-42-4.

This is a two-game series between Clemson and Tulane. The return game will be in New Orleans in 1981.

Memorial Stadium and exciting football is a tradition at Clemson University. The enthusiastic support for Clemson athletics by students, alumni and friends reflects this tradition in a most positive manner. It is a tradition which we wear with pride, one which we warmly share with you this Saturday afternoon in welcoming you to campus.

If you'll get to know us better you'll find we have other equally long-standing traditions . . . other traditions of continuing commitment and meaning.

One which will impress you immediately is Clemson's tradition of concern for people. Clemson is no Ivory Tower University. Its heartbeat is always alert to people's needs; its pulse renders service in all 46 counties of South Carolina. That's what this University has been about for more than 80 years. This commitment was first made for us by our founder, Thomas Green Clemson, who almost a century ago saw the great need in this State for a scientifically oriented institution of higher learning that would provide our young people with the training needed to build a better society.

As the years passed, the scope and mission of Clemson's services to the State and Nation have enlarged. Institutions — like individuals — do not stand still. Clemson is engaged in teaching, research and public service in those areas associated with a land-grant institution actively seeking to meet the needs of the people it serves. As their needs vary or change, Clemson adjusts its capabilities for service. Today, as we watch the football game, this University is responding to a wide range of problems affecting South Carolinians and people everywhere. It is a people-to-people commitment to which Clemson and its resources are totally dedicated.

Exciting football is the basic character of Memorial Stadium; relating to people is the basic character of Clemson University.

Let's make getting together a tradition. We'll learn a lot from each other. This is your campus. Come back as often as possible.

Athletic Director — BILL McLELLAN

Clemson's athletic family began May 1, 1958, when he was appointed assistant business manager.

Although he held that title until 1966, McLellan served the athletic department in almost every imaginable area—from ticket managing and distribution, ordering and maintaining the equipment for all sports, and when the regular office staff turned out their lights upon completion of another day's work, McLellan journeyed out to the football field where he assisted his former coach with the grid duties.

In 1966, McLellan was appointed assistant athletic director, was named associate athletic director a couple of years later, and on Feb. 4, 1971, became the school's third director of athletics.

And it's been since that latter date that Clemson's athletic program has made tremendous strides.

Under McLellan's leadership, the entire athletic family relocated in the modern Frank Johnstone Jervy Center on West campus, and it's in this eye-catching structure where the dedicated Tiger AD makes his daily decisions in an effort to keep Clemson in the national limelight.

McLellan has directed improvements in all athletic areas, from aluminum seats for spectator comfort in Clemson Memorial Stadium to the most recent improvement in the program—the completion of the eight-lane swimming pool and the separate diving tank in Fike Recreation Center.

Certainly the men's varsity program speaks for itself—like the football team recording its best record a year ago since a 9-2 finish in 1959, and like the basketball team achieving its first-ever national ranking and making its first-ever trip to post-season tournament play, and like the soccer team recording its third straight ACC crown and third straight berth to the NCAA playoffs, and like the baseball team experiencing its 18th consecutive winning campaign on its way to the NCAA playoffs.

However, McLellan has directed his efforts to the overall program, including the intramural department for Clemson faculty, staff, and students alike, and the most recent addition of a women's athletic program.

A year ago, the former was in its second year of a five-year McLellan-engineered plan, as the intramural department had grown to the point that it now requires four full-time staff directors.

And last year, the Tigers fielded women's teams in fencing, swimming and tennis, with the latter posting a fine 10-2 record. Then this winter, a Clemson women's basketball team will join that trio.

So it's been a constant climb by Clemson's athletic program under the leadership of Bill McLellan, and a climb that will certainly continue as the Tigers seek an overall program second to none.

McLellan is married to the former Ann Rogers of Fork, and they have two daughters, Suzy, a sophomore at Winthrop, and Arch Anna, and two sons, Bill and Cliff.

A man for all seasons is Bill McLellan, a 43-year old native of Hamer, S. C., who has crossed every plateau in Clemson's rapidly expanding athletic program. And since he assumed the top position in the department over four years ago, Clemson athletics and excellence have been synonymous.

One might say that Clemson has been McLellan's home for 25 years, because since his graduation from high school he's been in Tigertown.

First, as a student-athlete when he played for the legendary Frank Howard. And during his undergraduate days, McLellan earned a pair of grid letters and was a member of Clemson's 1952 Gator Bowl team. He graduated from the University in 1954.

Two years later he earned his master's in agricultural economics, and the following two years he served the school in that department.

Head Football Coach—RED PARKER

1974 Atlantic Coast Conference and South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year

In just two short years at Clemson University, Red Parker has given Tiger fans something to howl about. And whereas the howl from Tigertown has been a pleasant one, a howl of reverent awe has been heard from Clemson opponents.

Because in those two years—1973 and 1974—Parker's Tigers have netted almost 8,000 yards of total offense, and have scored more points (477) than Clemson managed in 34 previous games (475) prior to his arrival at Tigertown.

And last fall, in just his sophomore campaign, Parker led Clemson to its best finish with a 7-4 won-lost figure since the 1959 Bluebonnet Bowl Tigers posted a 9-2 slate.

Along the way the Tigers knocked off a pair of opponents who would go on to post-season bowl affairs, and because of Clemson's tie for second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Redhead was tabbed as both the league's and State of South Carolina's Coach-of-the-Year in 1974.

A native of Hampton, Ark., Parker was a standout in football, baseball, and track at Arkansas A&M, graduating in 1953.

After a couple of months in a summer baseball league, the Redhead was appointed prep mentor at Fordyce, Ark., High School, a school that was experiencing the misfortune of a 22-game grid losing streak.

But in eight seasons with Parker at the helm, Fordyce lost but a dozen games on its way to an impressive 75-12-4 record which included a 37-game winning streak.

In 1961 Parker returned to his alma mater as head coach, remaining there for five seasons. During his stay, A&M posted a 29-19-2 record, including a 24-5-1 ledger from 1963-65, and a pair of league titles.

Meanwhile, The Citadel had launched a search for a head coach who had a winning tradition, and that's how the Redhead became a Palmetto State resident.

And from 1966 through 1972, the Bulldogs established themselves as one of the most respected and dangerous grid teams in the Southern Conference, all because Parker introduced the veer offense to the area, and it didn't take long to leave its mark.

The 1971 Cadet squad raced to a fine 8-3 record, scored 366 points, and chalked up over 5,000 yards of total offense that season which ranked The Citadel as the nation's fourth-leading producer of real estate.

Parker's seven-year stand in Charleston gave the Bulldogs a 39-34 won-lost column.

His fourth head coaching position in as many schools is the one for which Tiger followers are grateful, because in December of 1972, the Smilin' Redhead became Clemson's 19th head coach.

Armed with his potent veer offense, Parker's enthusiasm and determination to make the Tigers a winner resulted in a 5-6 record his first season at Clemson and a third place finish in the ACC behind bowl-bound N. C. State and Maryland.

And last season's 7-4 record gave the Redhead a two-year Clemson mark of 12-10, and a 14-year head coaching record of 80-63-2 in the college ranks.

Prior to his initial grid campaign at Clemson, Parker promised to leave no stone unturned nor any avenue unexplored in an effort to put the Tigers' football fortunes along side of the country's top powers.

For the past two seasons, the Tigers' football fortunes have definitely been on the upswing. And if his past record is any indication of what to expect, then Parker's Tigers should continue to show improvement with each grid campaign.

Parker and his wife, the former Betty Goggans of Rison, Ark., have three children—Mrs. Vicki Wallace; Cindy, a student at Clemson; and Jim Mack.

Parker and '74 Tig Quarterback Mark Fellers discuss strategy.

An extra paycheck every month...that's one of the benefits of the Air Force Reserve. And as your rank goes up, so does the amount of that paycheck. All we ask of your time is one weekend a month and two weeks active duty during the year.

There are low-cost insurance plans, retirement benefits. An opportunity to learn a new skill or maybe sharpen up the one you used to have in the service. And the new faces and experiences of a Reserve weekend could be just the change you need in your regular routine.

If you had prior service bring yourself and your experience back to the Air Force Reserve. You'll benefit and so will the country. So, if you are between the ages of 17-34, call toll free 800-447-4700 (in Illinois call 800-322-4400) for the location of your nearest Air Force Reserve recruiter. Or, just send in the coupon.

WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY describes the Tiger as "a large tawny black-striped Asiatic flesh-eating mammal related to the cat." And the largest and what is probably the best specimen in captivity in the Palmetto State is "Boris" a Siberian Tiger which is housed at the Columbia Zoological Park.

CELEBRATE AMERICA'S TRADITION AT HUNGRY BULL FAMILY STEAK HOUSE

Just like good football, quality steaks, baked potatoes and salad are an American tradition.

And at Hungry Bull we're celebrating those traditions. And we've added two other American traditions: good service and friendly family atmosphere.

We know that it's that extra effort that counts, in good food and in football. That's why, at Hungry Bull . . .

Prior to the 1970 football season, the Tiger Paw was adopted to help distinguish the Clemson Tiger from the many other Tigers at schools such as Auburn, Princeton, LSU, Memphis State and Missouri. It did not serve as a replacement to the Tiger, but as something to go along with our Clemson Tiger.

ANOTHER RECORD FOR IPTAY

For the first time in history, Clemson IPTAY members contributed over three quarters of a million dollars to the Clemson athletic program for the fiscal year of 1974-75.

The highly-successful 12 month period also marked the 11th consecutive year that IPTAY funds had increased over the previous year.

Altogether, $854,500 were contributed by 10,706 individuals and business firms. This represented 114 per cent of the goal set by the officers and directors.

The State of South Carolina reached 115 per cent of its goal, North Carolina netted 108 per cent, Georgia 117 and the remaining states 108.

Breaking down the various categories, final figures show there were 7,360 $20 IPTAY members, 2,193 who were $100 Gold Carders, 750 in the $250 Gold Card listing, 281 who were $500 Gold Cards, 84 who were a Tiger Donor ($1,000) and 38 who were Scholarship Donors ($2,000).

Kershaw County paced the Palmetto State by making 146 per cent of its goal. In second place was Allendale County with 138 per cent, third spot went to Berkeley with 132 per cent and with 127 per cent in fourth place was Newberry County.

Rounding out the top counties were Calhoun and Hampton, each with 125 per cent; Dorchester, Lexington, Greenville and Charleston Counties with 124 per cent each; and Anderson with 123 per cent.

Again, Greenville County raised the largest contributions of any other county in the state with $132,790, nearly twice as much as Richland's $66,560.

The Top Ten was rounded out with Anderson ($61,140), Pickens ($59,360), Spartanburg ($53,590), Greenwood ($24,030), Florence ($23,910), Lexington ($22,630), Orangeburg ($19,110) and Charleston ($17,580).

IPTAY was organized in 1934 by the late Dr. Ruppert H. (Rube) Fike with one purpose in mind—to finance athletic scholarships for Clemson's intercollegiate program. And since that time, not one single penny has gone for anything else other than scholarships for Clemson athletics. This year there will be 12 sports in the program as the Tigers will field a wrestling team for the first time.

Thousands of student-athletes have received an education through IPTAY, which may not have been possible otherwise. And many of these athletes have brought honor to themselves and Clemson by being named to All-America, all-conference and all-state teams. In 20 years existence of the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Tigers have won 13 outright conference championships and shared another.

Membership in IPTAY is open to anyone interested in helping Clemson students who participate in one or more of the 12 sports which the Tigers field. Gifts to IPTAY are matched by most matching gift companies.

If IPTAY members receive ticket priority in football and basketball over everybody else, and season ticket IPTAY orders are always filled first.

Forest Hughes, Jr., of Winnsboro served as IPTAY president in the just passed record-breaking year. Serving with him were George Poole, Jr., of Mullins as vice president and Reeves Gressette, Jr., of Orangeburg as secretary-treasurer. These same officers were re-elected in August to serve another year.

1975 CLEMSON CROSS COUNTRY

Jim Moorhead, a former track and cross country standout at Clemson before his graduation in 1962, enters his second season as mentor of the Tiger harriers, and with hopes to improve on last year's 1-4 dual campaign finish.

Clemson did place a strong second in both the South Carolina State Meet and the always-tough Stone Mountain, Ga., Road Race, and if the Tigers are going to rise, Moorhead will have to find a replacement for two-time captain Roy Kulikowski who departed via the graduation route this past spring.

The 1975 contingent, on paper, looks stronger—depth-wise—than any Tig cross country unit in quite some time now, as Moorhead has five returning lettermen in the fold, plus two junior college transfers and a host of promising freshmen.

Junior Dean Matthews heads the list of returnees, and he, along with another junior, Herman Jutzeler, came back after the summer in excellent shape. The pair give the Tigers a strong one-two punch.

Also, Moorhead has Brian Waldrep, David Wright, and Dave Geer, who is back after a leg injury sidelined him for the entire '74 campaign, returning.

Then, Kevin Collins, the Florida State Junior College cross country champion in both 1973 and 1974, and Bill Middleton, the National JC 1,000 year indoor champion, were inked by Moorehead after the duo had ended fine careers at Florida Junior College.

Freshmen include Dave Buechler, an All-American prepster from Louisville, Ky.; all-state harrier Gary Ramey from Stone Mountain, Ga.; Kingsley Botchway from Ghana; New Yorker John Droge; and Hoosier Tom Rasch, younger brother of Furman harrier Jim Rasch.

Also, Moorhead has a trio of Tigers who lettered for Clemson's indoor and outdoor track teams last year in Kenneth George, Rod Huff, and Ludlow Lawson.

With the quality of runners at Tiger-town in 1975, Moorhead should certainly see a vast improvement over last year. And knowing that there are no seniors on this squad, the Clemson coach is actually in the second stage of what looks to be a solid building season in '75.

Clemson's cross country course is located on West Campus on and around the nine-lane all-weather track and the football and soccer practice areas. Truly one of the most scenic courses in the country, it stretches across the dike over beautiful Lake Hartwell, and runs through the forest green hills behind the Jervy Athletic Center. In the picture above, the course starts and finishes at the point marked by the asterisk (). After starting, the runner follows the course of the arrows until he reaches the point marked by the letter A. There he makes another full swing around the outer perimeter of the course, passes point A again, and when he reaches point B, he makes a right turn and follows the arrow to the finish line—marked by the asterisk (). The complete course runs six miles.

ACC Viewpoints: The Best ACC Players I Have Faced

RONNY JOHNSON

RALPH STRINGER

TROY SLADE, Duke Receiver and Return Specialist — "Although I am primarily a receiver with the Blue Devils, I also have an opportunity to play defense as a return specialist, so I am well familiar with both the offensive and defensive standout performers in the ACC. Playing both ways gives me a good opportunity to evaluate all the players in the conference. It's always difficult to single out one or two individual players since there are so many good ones around. Defensively, Maryland line-hacker Harry Walters has to be considered one of the better players in the nation. On offense, quarterbacks Scott Gardner of Virginia and Dave Buckley of N. C. State along with running back James Betterson of North Carolina and tight end Bennie Cunningham of Clemson are very impressive performers."

JIM BRECHBIEL, Maryland Defensive Back — "Any offensive player that goes 6-foot-5 and weighs 250 pounds and carries the ball is going to create problems for a defensive back. And Clemson's All-America tight end Bennie Cunningham does create problems. He has the size and strength which makes it very difficult to tackle him one-on-one. Troy Slade of Duke can get past you with his quick feet, Cunningham just runs over you. He has good hands and good speed to go with his size. When he is used on the end-around he is dangerous both in breaking for a long gain and is dangerous to any defensive back who tries to bring him down alone. All a back can do is slow him down and hope that the pursuit can stop him for as few yards as possible."

RONNY JOHNSON, North Carolina Defensive Back — "The ACC certainly had some great offensive players last season. In fact, it seemed that every team had at least one player about whom the defense had to worry about at all times. But of the players who will be back this season, I guess I would have to single out Clemson's All-America tight end Bennie Cunningham as the most outstanding. He has tremendous strength, good speed and excellent hands. You have to be especially aware of him at all times and that opens up the rest of Clemson's offense. He had a big day against us last fall, catching two touchdown passes. He also impressed me with his blocking ability. I know we must do a better job of containing him if we hope to beat Clemson this year."

RALPH STRINGER, N. C. State Defensive Back — "I was impressed with his size the moment I saw him, but when I tried to tackle him, I found out that stopping Clemson's All-America tight end Bennie Cunningham was like trying to tackle a runaway Cadillac. The ones he catches usually turn into big gainers. The major thing about Bennie is that it's almost impossible for one man to bring him down. He's so strong, and if you let him get up a head of steam, look out. My freshman year he caught a long pass with two men on him. I put a good shot on him from behind that didn't even faze him. The three of us finally dragged him down. The ACC has an awful lot of good football players, but not many better than that Tiger."

JIMMY WILLIAMSON, Clemson Linebacker — "As I look back over the 1974 season, I think of several outstanding athletes. Being a linebacker and former running back, the performances by opposing ball carriers seem to stick in my mind. Characteristics such as speed, size, strength and toughness are important for one to be a good runner. Players such as Bubba Bean and Skip Walker of Texas A&M, Georgia's Horace King, and a pair of Tennessee standouts, Stanley Morgan and Condredge Holloway, are just a few of the great runners I faced last year. Each has great ability in one area or another. Ranking right alongside these outstanding runners is James Betterson of North Carolina, who is the best I have faced in the ACC. He certainly ranks with the best running backs in the country. Before he's through, he'll make quite a name for himself with the Tar Heels and in the ACC."

BUTCH POWERS, Virginia Defensive End — "Playing at defensive end, I am more involved with the backs than with the linemen. The back that provided me with most problems was Louis Carter, the outstanding halfback from Maryland who graduated last year. He not only possessed the speed to get outside, but he also had the strength to go inside with success. His legs were exceptionally strong, which made him difficult to bring down. Louis was not only a running threat, for he was quite accurate with the option pass. When he didn't have the ball, he was blocking just as hard as he ran. His talents were noticed by others also, as he was All-Conference and mentioned on several All-America teams."

BILL ARMSTRONG, Wake Forest Free Safety — "Although his statistics for the entire game didn't show that much, quarterback Scott Gardner was the best ACC player that I faced during the 1974 season. Though I only played in four conference games at my new position in the defensive backfield, it's tough to think of anyone better than Gardner. People credit him on his great passing ability, but I was equally impressed with him as a runner. It's my job to come up and stop his scramble, but he's very hard to bring down. And what the statistics don't show is his ability as a true field general. He reads the ends and tackles perfectly in running the veer offense. He's the key to the entire Virginia offense and he'll make the Cavaliers tough to beat this season."

PEPSI COLA AND THE CLEMSON TIGERS

—An Excellent Relationship

The Clemson Tigers and the Terry Bottling Company of Anderson, distributors of Pepsi Cola in this area, have formed an excellent relationship. In addition to the ceremony last January when Pepsi officials presented a special commemorative bottle to University and athletic personnel, Terry Bottling has distributed the miniature footballs and bumper stickers pictured below.

And when Red Parker's gridders reported back this fall for pre-season practice, Terry Bottling handed out more than 800 free Pepsi Colas to the members of the news media and area fans who were on hand for the annual Picture Day.

Moreover, Pepsi plans a commemorative glass (shown below) to go along with the bottle, as well as a glass which will show the Tigers' 1975 grid schedule.

Special commemorative 12 oz. Pepsi Cola bottles, saluting Clemson University and the Tigers' perfect home football season in 1974, were made available by Terry Bottling Company of Anderson.

Shown receiving the first commemorative bottles from Mr. Roy Duffey, Vice-President and General Manager of Terry Bottling Company, are University President Dr. R. C. Edwards, and 1974 Atlantic Coast Conference and State of South Carolina Coach of the Year Red Parker. Also receiving these collectors' items at a special ceremony in January were Clemson's four all-league performers in, from left to right in the back, defensive safety Jim Ness, offensive guard Ken Peebles, middle guard Willie Anderson, and All-America tight end Bennie Cunningham.

The faster it spins, the more you spend.

The purpose of that rotating disk on your electric meter is to measure the amount of power being used.

The more you're using, the faster it goes. And the higher your monthly bill will be.

Keep that in mind. And use electricity wisely.

Because whenever you waste power, you waste money.

CLEMSON

*Alumni Loyalty Fund—
Many Things To Many People*

They are doctors, lawyers, teachers, farmers, businesspersons, military strategists, public servants. They have a lot going for them. They have an opportunity to grow. And their roots are here on this campus. They are former students of this institution in the foothills of South Carolina.

Clemson University has been involved in providing one of this nation's most vital commodities since 1893. Yet, the educational capabilities of Clemson continue to mount, and the University has a vibrant incentive to demonstrate its ability, and an objective yardstick to measure it.

As Clemson University continues its contribution to the development of this state, it remains an indispensable part of its future. Combine capacity, ability and opportunity and you conclude that potential is virtually unlimited.

It is, with your help. Graduates, former students and friends of Clemson are not only a source of pride for the University but a monumental strength in undergirding its educational programs with annual investments in the institution through the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund and other development opportunities at the University.

But greater challenges lie ahead. Knowledge has multiplied beyond comprehension; the domestic and world situations have become unwieldy and precarious. To make sure performance measures up to potential, Clemson University utilizes wisely and frugally every source of aid possible from all sectors of a free society — private citizens and foundations, business and industrial organizations, state and federal governments.

Now, more than ever before, Clemson needs you, your interest, and your investment in education. Now, more than ever before, won't you consider what you can do for Clemson?

Clemson played before almost a half-million football fans last fall, and 251,424 of those grid boosters saw the Tigers' six home games in 1974, for an average of 41,904 per game. The largest home crowd a year ago was the 52,667 total that watched as Clemson whipped arch-rival South Carolina 39-21, and that marked the second largest home crowd ever.

ARA-Slater's philosophy is a unique, systematic approach designed to achieve our most important goal: STUDENT SATISFACTION. This concept is a result of our experience with millions of students. We have the flexibility to understand your needs and the capability to satisfy them.

At Clemson, ARA demonstrates practical, new methods for providing nourishing, well-balanced meals to athletes, students and staff. Our corporate and regional specialists give ARA's dining service manager expert advice in planning menus, purchasing goods, controlling waste, utilizing labor. The support of this team effort is carried out daily in Schilleter Hall and Harcombe Commons, and at the Clemson House Buffeteria. It is our desire to serve students what they want and to accommodate them by providing this same efficient service for special events or festive holiday meals.

We're here to provide the type of service that will benefit the entire school and community. THAT'S WHAT WE THINK A DINING SERVICE IS ALL ABOUT.

Homecoming at Tigertown is always a festive and fun packed weekend. In addition to the all-student productions at Tigerama the night before the game, the fraternities provide the campus with attractive displays, like the one above, which honors Red Parker, the 1974 Atlantic Coast Conference and State of South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year.

1975-76 CLEMSON BASKETBALL

TIGER OUTLOOK

Ten returnees from last year's Clemson NIT cage team, one that many felt was the best ever in the school's history, give Bill Foster a solid nucleus to work with as he enters his initial campaign at Tigertown.

Included in that group of veterans are two of the top 10 players in the Atlantic Coast Conference—the nation's toughest cage league, the ACC's leading rebounder and shot blocker, three starters from the 74-75 unit, and four of the five leading point producers from a year ago.

Guard Skip Wise, who led Clemson in scoring with an 18.5 average, became the first freshman ever to earn a spot on the All-ACC cage first team, and combined with a 13.0 scoring and league-leading 11.7 rebounding and 119 blocked shot effort from 7-1 Tree Rollins, Clemson raced to a 17-11 record, to its highest finish ever (tied for second) in the ACC, to its first national ranking ever by both wire services, and to its first post-season contest (NIT) ever. And Rollins, as a soph, was a second-team all-conference choice.

Two other freshmen, starter Stan Rome (10.4) and Colon Abraham (7.1) finished third and fifth respectively in scoring for the Tigers last winter.

Foster also welcomes returnees Charlie Rogers (3.9), David Brown (2.9), Jimmy Howell (2.5), and Andy Butchko (1.2) to his front court corps, and guards John Franken (3.0) and Bruce Harman (1.7).

Freshmen signees include 6-3 Greg Coles of East Elmhurst, N. Y., 6-7 Marvin Dickerson of Charleston, and 6-2 Derrick Johnson of Indianapolis, Ind.

The Tigs are talented, however young—three freshmen, four sophomores, four juniors, and only two seniors, but Foster is working for the right blend to keep Clemson's cage fortunes on a national level of prominence.

IPTAY-- Special Recognition

For the 11th straight year, contributions made to the Clemson IPTAY Club showed an increase over the previous 12 months. Altogether, 10,706 individuals and firms contributed $854,500, which was 114 per cent of the quota initially set.

South Carolina made 115 per cent of its goal, North Carolina 108, Georgia 117 and the remaining states 108.

This was the first time over three quarters of a million dollars was realized and the fourth straight year over a half million dollars came in. Every penny received by IPTAY since its beginning in 1934 has been used for athletic scholarships only.

On the following pages, we have listed those people and business organizations, who are being recognized by their permission, for their interest and continued support of IPTAY.

BEFORE LONG, PEOPLE ARE GOING TO BE TALKING ABOUT LOAD-BEARING BRICK IN THE SAME BREATH WITH MOM'S APPLE PIE.

Given today's economy, architects and builders are going to be praising load-bearing brick for years to come. Because, all things being equal, you can put up a building faster with load-bearing brick than concrete and steel. And you can put it up for less money. And you don't sacrifice a thing aesthetically.

At Richtex, we're uniquely equipped to help you take advantage of the boom in bearing-wall construction, because we've got a newly automated plant that can turn out all the big brick you need.

So give us a call. And find out what's cooking at Richtex. P.O. Box 3307, Columbia, South Carolina 29230 (803) 786-1260. RICHTEX

by

YEARGIN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY

At Yeargin we take pride in our work. And we are especially proud of the new steel belted radial passenger tire plant we built for Firestone at Wilson, North Carolina. More than 1,600,000 square feet.

As the builder of this new facility, we handled all aspects of construction with our own craftsmen and supervision — civil, mechanical, and electrical. And we completed the work in record time. The first tire was produced only 8 1/2 months after the ground-breaking in June, 1973.

When you think construction, think Yeargin. We can build it fast; we can save you money; and our quality of workmanship is second to none.
